We Dedicate

To Our Friends

. . . who by their consecrated abilities have opened doors of opportunity; by their uncompromising perseverance, led us over thresholds to discover truth, and by their exemplary lives and steadiness of purpose, indicated the way to success.

. . . who have in this way opened to us the doors of E.N.C. and so life's doors.

To

Professor and Mrs. Andrew Rankin

This Book

Keynote . . .

VIA, VERITAS, VITA — "The Way, The Truth, and The Life" . . . this, the motto on our college seal, is the epitome of the educational objectives and ideals of our college — a Christian philosophy of life, a reverence for truth, the building of holy character. These were, in effect, the words of our new president in his inaugural address.

If we are to benefit from the worthy and high ideals of our college, we must take full advantage of the opportunities it provides Our professors and the educational program, our college pastor and the religious program, and our extra-curricular program of sports and social activities can open the doors which lead to the attainment of the well-balanced personality suggested above, but it is entirely dependent upon us whether or not we push through these doors and attain. "Behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it." But of what avail is an open door if we do not pass through?

We present to you the doors of E.N.C. Let us pass through and review another joyous school year. Let us pass through them in our personal lives and attain unto a Christian philosophy of life, a reverence for truth, the building of holy character.

Our New

AN EVENING
AT HOME

President Speaks

The years have brought many changes to E.N.C.: new buildings, new courses, new faces. Plans have already been made for further changes in future years. But E.N.C. at heart is the same E.N.C. it has been in the past. Earnest young people are given an opportunity to pursue a college education, professors take a personal interest in each student, and revival fires still burn on our altars.

An alumnus of the college after many years of service as a missionary said to me, "It is a real thrill to come back to E.N.C. and find a more wholesome, spiritual atmosphere on the campus than when I was a student."

It is always comforting to hear alumni express confidence in the present program of E.N.C. It is equally gratifying to realize that graduates of the college after many years of absence from the campus still want E.N.C. to be the kind of college they remember from their student days.

Our fond hope is that every member of the class of 1949 will be true to the standards, traditions, and ideals of E.N.C.; that there may be such a strong bond of common purpose uniting faculty, administration, student body, and alumni that together we may keep E.N.C. ever the same.

The College Missionary Society

HOSPITAL CHOIR

"The dissemination of missionary knowledge among the students, and the enlistment of consecrated lives for the spread of the Gospel of full salvation throughout the world." This, the object of the College Missionary Society, gave impetus to its activities.

Zeal . . . two inspiring chapel services . . . presentation of the various mission fields at weekly prayer meetings . . . sending the Camera to missionary alumni . . . Christmas cards to mission schools in Africa and Japan . . . all these activities were carried on in a zealous manner with the object of the society constantly in view.

Diligence . . . Under the leadership of its sincere, hard-working president, Berge Najarian, the College Missionary Society has left an imprint on the life of E.N.C. which will long be remembered.

Cooperation . . . The cooperating officers were Marion Kish, vice-president; Rebecca Skidmore, secretary-treasurer; William Tibbetts and Douglas Alexander, members-at-large.

Insight . . . Professor Alice Spangenberg, faculty adviser, provided insight into the needs of the field, particularly in Japan.

Accomplished . . . The object of the society, "to spread missionary knowledge."

The Prison Farm at Beverly . . . Boston missions . . . Quincy City Hospital . . . the Old Folks' Home . . . The Good Samaritan Children's Hospital . . . all have felt the impact of the purpose of the Evangelistic Association as stated in its constitution, "to manifest the burden for souls in active work."

"Perhaps the greatest endeavor was in the missions where down-and-outers have been given new hope through the Gospel of Christ." Thus the president, Alvin Lawhead, expresses the Evangelistic Association's work in carrying out its purpose for this year. Other officers were: Marvin Joy, vice-president; Clara Rogers, secretary; Gene Smith, treasurer.

Under the cooperation of the members with the officers, and the inspiration of its faculty adviser, Rev. E. S. Phillips, the Evangelistic Association also organized three choirs for this year. "These choirs represent not so much actual soul-seeking as they do service in good works indicative of good spiritual health."

The spiritual emphasis was kept high by president Carroll Bradley, vice-president Evelyn Gibson, chorister Roger Williams, pianist Paul Lick, secretary-treasurer E. J .Bruce, members-at-large Douglas Alexander, Ollie Black, Doris Young, and Lois Andrews, and counsellor Dr. J. Glenn Gould.

Student Ministerial Association

"The acquainting of the ministerial student with pastoral problems." This purpose was carried out by such outstanding guest speakers as Dr. Sydney Powell, pastor of Tremont Temple, who spoke on the subject, "Fools for Christ's Sake."

Socially . . . a hamburg fry.

The officers were: president, Floyd Flemming; vice-president, Jerry Douds; and secretary-treasurer, Clara Rogers.

"He put a song in my heart." The A Cappella Choir gave expression to this song in their role in the presentation of excerpts from Handel's Messiah and also in daily concerts while touring the Eastern Educational Zone. Acting officers of the choir were Harold Darling, president; Regina McGill, secretary-treasurer; Russell Bailey, librarian; and Ray Campbell, business manager.

"Sing forth the honor of His name." To follow this exhortation the Asaphs assisted in the presentation of excerpts from Handel's Messiah and also presented an evening program.

The officers were: president, W. Wallace; vice-president, W. Fader; secretary-treasurer, W. Parks.

Chapel Services

Variety . . . inspiration, information, instruction, advice!

The chapel services this year furnished us with more than entertainment.

Inspiring messages by the evangelists Dr. Powers, Rev. Morris Wilson, and Dr. Jessop caused us to draw nearer to Christ. Vice-President Phillips and Professor Rothwell gave us important spiritual instruction.

President Mann included advice of spiritual nature in his chapel talks. A midsemester message to improve the use of our time in study and devotion. "Do it now!"

National economy, stock market predictions, statistics for the ladies. Dr. Leonard Spangenberg presented an enlightening lecture on the status of our national economy.

Oh, yes, there was Professor Tyson's message on "N.S.F." His Southern brogue had us baffled for a while but we soon learned to understand and appreciate.

A year to be remembered for its valuable enlightening chapel services.

and Revivals

Opening convention . . . Rev. James Hunton of South Portland, Maine. Inspirational messages from God and from the heart of the preacher. A good start for the school year.

Fall revival . . . Dr. Powers' heart-searching messages characterized by the straightforward manner of the speaker. Practical application of the Gospel to everyday living. "The true test of religion: Does it perform the function that it was purposed to perform?" Results . . . souls praising God for new-found victory.

Second semester . . . Opening convention —Rev. Morris Wilson stirred our hearts with the simplicity of the Gospel he preached. Many souls returned to our Father's house. Shouts of victory heard across campus.

Spring revival . . . Dr. Harry Jessop. Gould Memorial Lectures and revival scenes and inspiring messages by Dr. Jessop.

Truly a year to be remembered for the spiritual blessings bestowed.

Wednesday . . . 9 p.m. . . . Room 21 . . . meeting will now come to order . . . a fervent prayer for divine guidance . . . another Student Council meeting.

Under the enterprising leadership of Neale McLain, several changes were affected. To permit new officers to familiarize themselves with their duties before assuming office, the election of major officers was moved to an earlier date in the school year.

Enthusiasm and cooperation have been the keynotes of the council's activities. The results were such delightful interludes as Mazie's parties, Mitzi's pepper-pot activities, and Ken's "student angle".

The primary consideration of the council has been to recognize the responsibility of the student leaders concerning the spiritual tone of the college. In all activities we must have His presence; we must seek to glorify Him.

Lists . . . pictures . . . more lists . . . write-ups . . . stacks of letters . . . full waste-baskets . . . a busy Nautilus staff gets under way.

Confusion was the order of the day. At first it was only in our minds, but as our "greenness" wore off it filled the entire room with photographs, copy, sketches, "dummy" sheets, telephone nickels, letters to prospective advertisers, and postage stamps. The tops of the desks were seldom, if ever, visible despite bulging files. And this wasn't due to the room being a man's world this year!

Through all the confusion the master plan and keynote of the book could be detected only by those "in the know". Then began the long and arduous task of recasting write-ups to conform to the style of the book, choosing snapshots, hounding tardy staff writers, planning lay-outs, over-working the student photographer, "unlosing" the lost business manager whenever he entered the Boston maze. The drain on midnight oil was heavy, but eventually the confusion was reduced to order. Deadlines came and went.

Hard work? Oh, yes! But through it all was the thrill of performing a task well and giving you, the students of E.N.C. a Nautilus that we think is tops!

Camera is out! The shout echoes down the halls of Munro Hall, the Mansion, or Memorial Hall and is soon followed by oh's and ah's of appreciation and bursts of laughter.

The Campus Camera staff relaxes. Business manager Ken Yoder with his assistants is still getting the papers out, but editor Larry Mullen has gone to bed early to get a full night's rest for once. Another Camera is out and there is yet a week before the next deadline with its headaches and frantic, last-minute checks.

Monday was our planning night. This year the Campus Camera was connected with a new 1-hour journalism class, College News Practice. With Professor Spangenberg, our faculty adviser, the staff discussed the Camera plans and learned to be better journalists. (We hope!)

Another new feature this year was the "Hats Off" column. It proved a success and we came to like our little man so politely tipping his derby. "The Council Chamber" was another new column written by Student Council president Neale McLain.

While searching for a theme, our 1949 Green Book staff mentally dug into the minds of the freshman class. There we found one element common to every student, the desire to discover God's truth. We envisioned this common element in the personage of the Forty-niner and made this hardy individual the theme of our Green Book. The staff felt that we freshmen are Christian forty-niners, miners of God's truth. In this role, it is our duty and desire to dig God's truth from among the deceiving "fool's gold" of false doctrines and to give the pure metal to the poverty-stricken world. We have our tools, the map of God's Word and the shovel of prayer; now we're staking our claims in Christian learning.

The Green Book was dedicated to Miriam Park, a Christian pioneer who has found God's gold and longs to give her wealth to those in other lands.

"N" Club

Basketball referees from "outside", up-to-date engraving on all athletic trophies, and a growing "Automatic Scoreboard Fund" bore able witness to an active "N" Club. This program was financed by the sale of basketball season tickets.

Membership is by election on the basis of athletic ability, sportsmanship, teamwork, and character. A minimum of three semesters at E.N.C. is also required.

This year the club functioned under the leadership of Clifford Keys, president; Eileen Albright, vice-president; Nelda Vidt, secretary; and Frank Domingues, treasurer.

Rush Day — "Get on the Beam" . . . foghorn . . . and fifty-five new students came in "on the beam" to the haven provided by the Delta lighthouse. Did you see John Bruce making that foghorn fog?

President Bob Jones kept the society spirit at a high level despite the dearth of football talent. He was ably aided by "the man with the beard" — Harvey Nicholson.

Impresario Paul Lick showed us another facet of the versatile Deltas — has anyone seen Mr. Balogh?

And those spirited Delta girls — can't you still hear them?

Come on, gold!
Come on, blue!
Raise that score —
We're back of you!

SIGMA DELTA

The ambitious Kappas returned to the campus last September full of their usual evident enthusiasm and society spirit. Rush Day plans received their immediate attention.

The Kappa Rush Day booth, a real, "live" bandwagon, sparkled with originality and talent. The siren notes of the band (when it could be heard) attracted as a reward for their efforts 55 new students.

As a versatile, talented, and spirited group, the Kappas were a real challenge in all fields of activity. Outstanding in sports, graced by talent and righteous zeal, the Kappas can proudly shout,

Smiles — loss or victory,
Dear Kappas, hail!

Highlights of the year were Mrs. Lewis as the schoolmarm of "Satire on a Country School", the Sigma-sponsored after-dinner prayer meetings under chaplain Bill Varian, and — oh yes! — Ichabod advising the second-semester students, "Handsome or Otherwise, Join the Sigmas."

SIGMA DELTA

"All aboard the Zeta Express, non-stop to success" was our initial call to action this year. Amidst the clamor of voices and ringing of bells many new students climbed aboard the Green and Gold Express. New horizons of intellectuality, spirituality, and sociability were scanned.

Committee meetings, scripts, casts, last minute changes, and rehearsals all went into our annual society program, which was entitled, "An Album of Autumn Love". The boys' football team came thru with a no-lose record. A handsome coat-of-arms, stamped on certificates of membership, was presented to each member. "Heave! ! — Ho! !" were familiar sounds on the spring boat trip— mostly "Heaves"! !

Yes, the Zetas witnessed another interest-packed year at E.N.C.

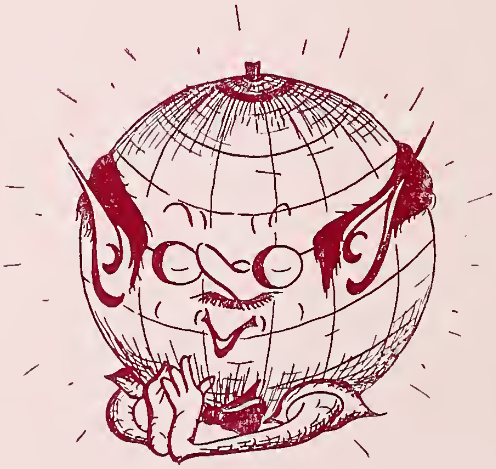
HONOR SOCIETY



"For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

"Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents. And likewise he that had received two, he also gained two . . .

"After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them . . .

"And he said, 'Well done, good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things; I will make thee ruler over many things."

"Conscience—what is it?"

Characteristic of "The Thinkers" were their questioning attitude, their insatiable curiosity, and their never-ending quest for truth.

To help encourage more persistent and correct thinking about life's true values, club members presented their original analyses of philosophical problems.

Activities were directed by George Teague, president; Paul Bartch, vice-president; and Ronald Bula, secretary-treasurer.

A talent program . . . interpretation of Handel's "Messiah" . . . a musical quiz program — these were activities participated in by E. N. C.'s up-and-coming Farnsworths and Baloghs, who strove to be good listeners and critics as well as performers. Activities were directed by Eleanor F. Smith, president; Emily Bigelow, vice-president; Jack McClung, secretary; and Edward Shoff, treasurer.

Historical Society

Keenly interested in current events, the History club conducted a timely open forum on presidential possibilities just before the November election. Special interest in Revolutionary history led the group to visit Boston's historical shrines. Activities were directed by Eleanor W. Smith, president; Robert Woodward, vice-president; and Steve Wool, secretary-treasurer.

Stern schoolmarms and schoolmasters of tomorrow behaved in quite un-pedagogical fashion at their hilarious fall social.

The group this year produced a recorded script for the film entitled "Student Teacher Training at E. N. C."

Activities were directed by Franklin Pinkerton, president; Violet Balwit, vice-president; Dorothy Young, secretary; and Benjamin Stahl, treasurer.

Societas Prae-Medica

"Surgery . . . surgery."

Especially interested in expressing and gratifying their interest in subjects dealing with the medical profession, the future "docs" viewed movies on malaria and amputation. The group also corresponded with a large number of medical schools.

Officers were Joe Songer, president; William Lusk, vice-president; and Carroll Ginter, secretary.

Labeling campus trees, developing nature trails in the Blue Hills, and making anatomical charts and models were projects of E. N. C.'s newly organized chapter of the American Nature Study Society.

The enthusiastic group, led by Joe Songer, effectively combined both recreation and education in nature study. Other officers were Mabel Tustin, vice-president; Wilda Huber, secretary; and Gilbert Hilgar, treasurer.

Literature Club

Purchasing Shakespeare and poetry records, viewing contemporary literature as interpretative of modern sociological, psychological and philosophical problems, and keeping the bulletin board filled with timely items were activities of the Literature Club, as well as a pilgrimage to local literary shrines.

The club was led by Phoebe Peoples, president; Ruth Allen, vice-president; Frances Dorsett, secretary-treasurer; and Becky Palmer, program chairman.

THIRD ROW: M. Dickinson, M. Park, P. McKenney, W. Wolfe, D. Cubie, R. Forbush, R. Lutz, K. Klingerman, A. Kinney, C. Gardiner E. Smith; SECOND ROW: V. Roberts, J. Brake, M. Weston, Professor Spangenberg, Dean Munro, P. Peoples, R. Allen, F. Dorsett, R. Palmer, C. Bruce, B. Flemming.

Taylor, V. Balwit, M. Ewing, S. Morales, Professor Rothwell, R. Barrueto, H. Rickev, W. Holloway, H. Weller, M. Musnug, C. Randall.

The stars shone especially bright this year because of two club members, president Richard Barrueto, Guatemala, and vice-president Sarah Morales, Puerto Rico, who effectively demonstrated everyday and holiday customs of our friends "south of the border". Among other activities, members listened to recordings of Mexican music and viewed slides of Mexico.

Other officers were Mary Jane Ewing, secretary, and Howard Rickey, treasurer.

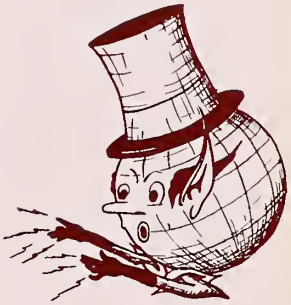
Psychology Club

White mice . . . black magic . . . hypnotism . . . Who will forget president Walter Graeflin's antics under Dr. Shields' mystic spell?

A trip to the state mental institution at Danvers was conducted in connection with the club's study of abnormal individuals.

Officers were: Walter Graeflin, president; Martha Maybury, vice-president; Ruby Friend, secretary; and Bernice Boozell, treasurer.



Rover Crew

THIRD ROW: P. Lick, F. Gray, E. Thompson, D. Stahl, C. DeRemer, P. Lockhart, R. Hood, J. Babcock, D. Darsch; SECOND ROW: F. Pinkerton, C. Keys, J. Gardner, G. Hilgar, F. John, P. Bergers, D. The Rover Crew—E. N. C.'s busiest boys — this year concentrated on scoutmaster training and development of nature study and nature trails in the area of the Blue Hills cabin built last year.

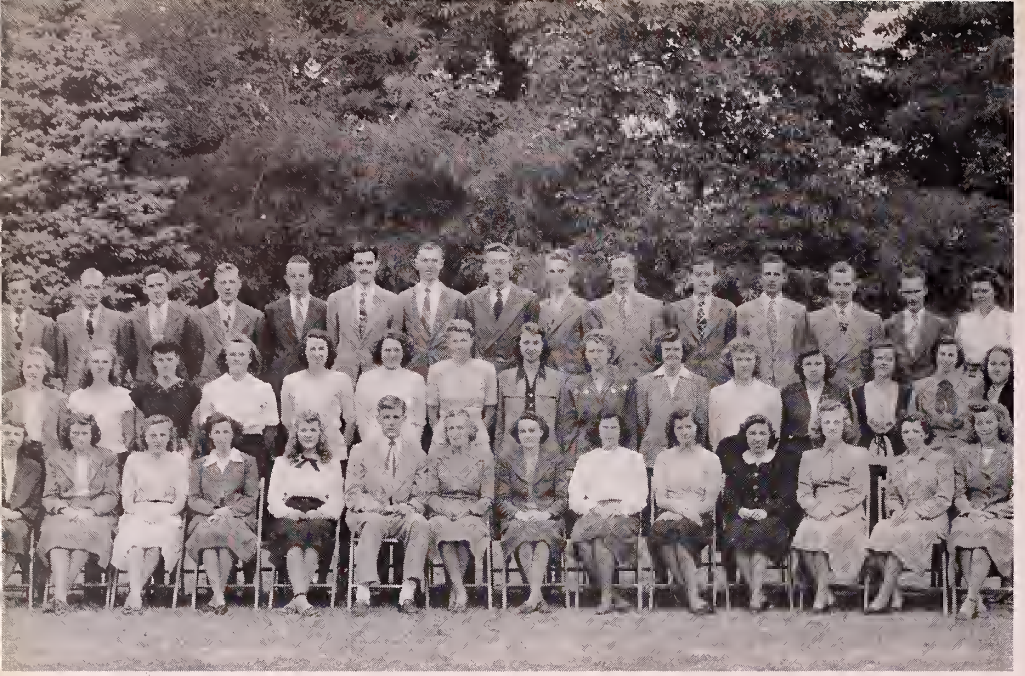
The program of scout leadership, led by Professor Babcock and Mates Delbert Wise, Joe Songer, and Harvey Nicholson, effectively combined work and recreation.



THIRD ROW: B. Berry, R. Long, D. Williams, H. Long, F. Parkyn, M. Bennett, V. Carr, B. Stahl, W. Winget, R. Clark, W. Smith, R. Schemerhorn, A. Stiefel, G. Smith, M. Smith; SECOND ROW: S. Dell, J. Speech Club

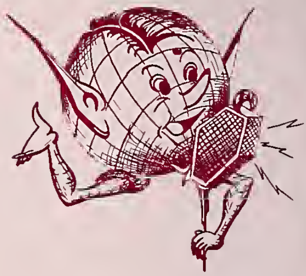
Very real chills crept down many backs when the Speech Club portrayed vividly Dickens' Christmas Carol at the student-body Christmas party.

Another outstanding club activity was a heated debate on "Resolved: that Sigma Delta societies be abolished". Deadlock was the outcome.

William Varian, president; Marion Kish, vice-president; and Marion Pauli, secretary-treasurer, were the officers.



House Council

SECOND ROW: F. Pinkerton, C. Hill, Z. Dohanian, M. Joy, J. Gardiner, L. Andrews, M. Weston; FRONT ROW: G. Gribben, E. Stephey, A. Kinney, B. Christensen, N. Vidt, C. Rogers, A. Washburn.

Busily efficient were president Alverda Kinney and her House Council as they maintained quiet study hours by an effective monitor system, and arranged inspirational after-dinner prayer-meetings.

Open House — spotless rooms, prize-winners all. Did anyone have fond memories of the Cardboard Palace as he walked through Memorial Hall?

A Mother-Daughter Banquet brought the girls together in a hilarious, "man-less" party in the dining hall. "Mother" Williamson won the blue ribbon!

Band

Enthusiastic Greg Larkin led his 38 orchestra members and 33 band members in one of E. N. C.'s most active musical years. In addition to good practice, these two musical organizations offer a constructive outlet for excess energy.

The orchestra, which made its debut at the fall revival, appeared also in the Messiah and a spring concert.

Peppy marches played by the band boosted healthy spirit at society sports events.

BALL

The football season had more than its share of thrills and excitement as the four societies battled it out for top honors. Much outstanding talent was exhibited with many new students adding to the fine brand of play.

The fighting Zetas strode conclusively to their second consecutive championship by overrunning the opposition for seven victories and no defeats. The Green and Gold had too much experience, too much depth in reserves, and too much scoring punch to be beaten.

The crashing Kappas lacked the necessary experience but had enough talent to finish second. Relying mainly on passing plays, the Blue and White won four but succumbed thrice to the Zetas.

The struggling Sigmas held together long enough to nose out the Deltas for third place. The Red and Black, by dint of their efficient teamwork pushed the top teams to the limit.

The spunky Deltas had the material but lacked the necessary leadership to do much damage. For their only victory the Black and Gold decisively defeated the Sigmas but couldn't stand up against the other teams.

DELTA

VOLLEY

With many newcomers teaming with the "veterans", there was plenty of action in the girls' volleyball games. Evenly matched teams made tension high in each exciting tilt.

The Deltas were led by that able "mighty mite", Eileen Albright. Some of the members of her efficient playmaking squad were Aleda Watts, Nelda Vidt, Claudine Gardiner, and Wilma Smith.

The Sigmas were led by newcomer Ruby Friend who produced a hard-to-beat combination. Norma Faye Beach, Muriel Weston, and Mabel Tustin aided the Sigma cause with their efficient performances.

SECOND ROW: O. White, M. Tustin, M. Hazelkamp, N. Beach, R. Friend; FRONT ROW: L. McGill, N. Clifton, V. Bailey, K. Stewart.

The Kappas found it hard to get started but stuck it out by producing some stiff opposition to the other teams. The Blue and White were fortified by Elaine Parsons, Martha Maybury, Helen Nease, and Dolores Mulgrew.

The Zetas, under the masterful direction of Janice Giles, showed that they could hold their own with steady, deliberate playing even in the tight contests. Other team members included Martha Jones, Peggy Myers, Lorna Allen, and Eloise Darling.

The Deltas had more strength this year, but they lacked a scoring punch. Through just plain grit they were able to keep up with the opposition for half the game, but lack of down-the-stretch drive was their undoing.

The consistent scoring by center Bob MacDonald and the masterful floor work of Floyd John kept them from being push-overs.

Other members of coach Cliff Walton's squad were Milton Clark, Bob Clark, Bill Melvin, Don "Hoopy" Reed, Bob Jackson, Frank DeBar, and Harvey Nicholson.

The Delta girls, once they hit their stride, were tough competition. Player-coach Eileen Albright used all her girls liberally. Using some girls as both guards and forwards kept the opposition guessing.

The members of this well-rounded team, which had plenty of new plays and effective passing, were Nelda Vidt, Doris Young, Aleda Watts, Anita White, Lois Bailey, Marion Pauli, Roberta Walton, and Wilma Smith.

Coach Steve Wool's Kappas started five freshmen who displayed speed, tricky ball-handling, and fancy shooting. Good co-ordination marked them as competitive material.

Under the stellar leadership of captain Howard Rickey and Jack Donley, the Blue and White was one of the better teams in spite of their "green" touch.

Holding down the other starting berths were Ray Gery, Joe Parker, and Dick Berry, who was later replaced by Bill McClung.

The Kappas had plenty of reserves. They were Andy "Roughhouse" Black, Chuck Cunningham, Alan Pearsall, LeRoy Howland.

The Kappa lassies, with just three veteran regulars and a group of newcomers, did a fair job on the court. They showed a lot of feminine spunk.

Captain Margie Kierstead combined with Elaine Parsons, Betty Gracey and Lois Anderson in the forward positions. At guard were Helen Schindler, Margie Bradley and Eleanor Smith with Elinor Gardiner, Muriel Brigham, and Ruth Oxley in reserve.

V. Bailey, O. White, M. Brown, L. Andrews

The Sigma Sams were a surprising outfit. With only one outstanding player they still managed to stay in the hair of the Zetas and the Kappas. With just plain good old American fight, the Red and Black pressed the top teams to the limit.

The first five were captain Carroll Bradley, Larry Watkins, Bill Varian, Chuck Brodhead, and Ed Shoff. In reserve were Walter Graeflin, Chuck Eisenbise, Harold Long, Jim Graves, and Bill Parks.

The Sigma Sallies had as much fight as the Sigma Sams and they also had a more successful team. Good teamwork and height aided the Sallies as they battled under captain Ruby Friend.

The starting team had Vera Bailley, Marie Hazelkamp, and Norma Faye Beach as forwards and Ruby Friend, Alice Jean Shoff, and Naomi Clifton as guards.

The reserves were Naomi Newton, Grace Oddo, Olive White, and Kipp Stewart.

The Zeta team of last year was all back — plus height in the persons of John Scott and Stan "Big Mitts" Brooks. Experience and ability made this group the team to beat.

Led by the resourceful Harold "Pops" Parry, the Green and Gold displayed a cool co-ordination which brought them through even the tightest games.

The starting team consisted of Howard Brooks, Frank Domingues, John Scott, Don Retter, and "Pops" Parry. The subs were Stanley Brooks, Zaven Dohanian, John Gardiner, Russ Bailey, and Bill Caldwell.

The Zeta girls, minus all their veteran forwards, relied mostly on their superb defense.

Capable Janice Giles captained the Green and Gold girls. New blood dominated the offense with Belle Christensen, Peggy Myers, and Lorna Allen as forwards. With Janice Giles, Martha Jones, Vangie Smith, and newcomer Eloise Darling the Zetas easily had the best guard combination in the league.

FRESHMAN CLASS

From the east, west, north, south; from the Army, Navy, Marine Corps; from many walks of life came the class of 1952. Of course, we were somewhat baffled when we first arrived on campus, but the orientation program soon made us forget our other worries and concentrate on acquainting ourselves with college life. When we emerged, we felt at home. The girls, piled four deep in Munro Hall, adjusted themselves to their strange environment while the boys wore off the newness of Memorial Hall.

School life really began with the Freshman Initiation. Although we were subjected to such inane indignities as eating without silverware and going through extremely silly motions when requested, compliance only demonstrated our condescension and graciousness in the face of adversity.

Rush Day arrived and we joined the society of our choice — or of our friends' choice. From then on competition increased as we met one another on the football field and basketball court.

Engaging in all the campus activities, we had our own class prayer meetings, and, as the year progressed, our spiritual lives deepened. Now we are looking forward to three more years of the fullest and highest Christian living and scholarship at E.N.C. while we continue preparing for the Master's service.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The sophomore class returned to the campus last fall eager to give the freshmen a true E.N.C. reception to college life. The newcomers soon became docile in our experienced hands and swirled in the wake of our new type of initiation, the battle of nerves. The gymnorium cellar echoed with the shrieks of girls as they crept through the chamber of horrors and drank from the well of Venus, while the boys were bowing before a powerful sophomore baseball team. Some of the more aggressive novices were assigned to help Professor Babcock tear down the remains of the famed Cardboard Palace. In spite of all the hostilities, the hatchet was buried in an atmosphere of peace at the close of a perfect day.

Because of the resignation of our former advisor, Dr. Owen, we unanimously chose vice-president Phillips to fill the vacancy. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have shown a great interest in our class. In addition to their routine duties they were the gracious host and hostess at a spaghetti dinner served at their home.

Changeable New England weather played havoc with our plans for a fall outing and forced us to "wait a minute", but we were not discouraged and arranged a winter outing.

Sincerity has been the keynote of our class prayer meetings. We are thriving in the warmth of the Christian atmosphere of E.N.C. and look forward to greater blessings on the class.

JUNIOR CLASS

The class of 1950 returned to school this year with a new sense of superiority and responsibility. We were upperclassmen and we smiled benignly on the antics of freshmen and sophomores during Freshman Week. We let them have their fun, but we were keenly aware that we would be too busy to do more than smile.

The class had its first opportunity to show its new seriousness in a Thanksgivng chapel program. "Come ye thankful people, come" . . . "Enter into HIS gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise" . . . "We thank Thee, Lord".

In February we entertained weary seniors from a successfully happy trip. A hilarious welcoming party it was. Oh, that band! . . . And weren't those end boys a scream?

Then finally the big event. Months of planning, headaches, midnight-oil burning, committee meetings under the pressure of time went into Junior-Senior Day. President Bob McNeely and vice-president Doris Young headed the efficient staff. The day formed another link in our chain of E.N.C. memories.

Class prayer meetings were other unforgettable memories during our third year at E.N.C. A sincerity, an understanding, a Christian fellowship marked each Monday evening meeting. Under the leadership of Harold Darling, our chaplain, we were inspired to live full Christian lives in the service of the Master. We formulated goals, we made new determinations, we gained another plateau.

ALICE FARNSWORTH PROGRAM

The enthusiasm and applause with which Alice L. Farnsworth was received was a tribute not only to Miss Farnsworth, but to the students of the Academy who, with the help of Mr. Robert Mortensen, arranged her visit to our campus. Miss Farnsworth was equally at home in our dining hall where she delighted us with a preview during the dinner hour, and in the college auditorium where we thrilled to her classical, semi-classical, and sacred selections.

Had Miss Farnsworth's voice and friendliness not already won her way into our hearts, certainly her heart-felt rendition of her concluding number, The Holy City, would have done so.

WHO'S WHO AMONG Students
IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES

Recognition is given to student leaders from approximately six hundred colleges and universities of the United States and Canada in the annual publication, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. This publication serves as an official directory for personnel managers and business executives and thus the brief biography which is printed of each member can be of no small importance.

On the basis of character, scholastic achievement, leadership, and possibilities of future usefulness to business and society the joint student-faculty committee selected seven E.N.C. seniors to receive the coveted key this year. Of the seven, four are philosophy majors; two, chemistry; and one, literature. Three are married students; one a Canadian veteran; and one an American veteran.

Selection to Who's Who is the climax to a well-rounded college career.

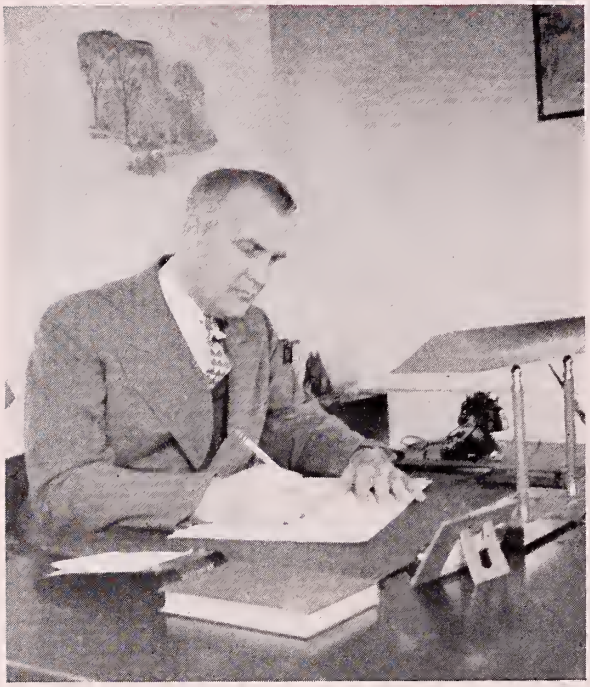
A Dream Comes True



DREAM WHILE YOU WORK

A dream — a new men's dormitory on the campus of E.N.C. Plans — blue prints and sessions with planning and finance committees. Action — the ground is broken and workmen come.

The "Cardboard Palace" had to go. The bull-dozer, assisted by willing helpers on campus, made short work of the old "Cardboard." Sentimental tears? . . . Not many.

All spring the work progressed. Foundation . . . bricklayers . . . smell of lumber . . . interested lookers-on . . . laying the cornerstone.

Dr. G. B. Williamson . . . "We dedicate this hall . . ." — a dream come true!

IS THE MAIL SORTED?

We all know this call . . . and so does Miss Braley. Tiny, bustling, white-haired, full of "it", Miss Braley answers many queries each day from girls looking for that certain envelope. But do her duties stop with sorting the mail? Oh, no, they don't even begin there. The front door must be opened for hungry boys coming to breakfast . . . ask Miss Braley to do it; we must have someone to preside at breakfast and get students to take charge of the devotional readings . . . Miss Braley will; well, who will sell the meal tickets to the off-campus diners? . . . have Miss Braley do it; shall we send the tablecloths out to be mended? . . . ask Miss Braley if she has time.

What does she answer? . . . To the various questions, she answers in various, witty ways, but always in the affirmative. Through the endless, tiny duties, through the trampling rush at the mailboxes, through it all she keeps "the noiseless tenor of her way".

RECIPE FOR A

THE GO AHEAD SIGNAL

The first step is buying the ingredients . . . or is it selling them to the chairman of the College Life committee?

Take:

- 1 capable vice-president
- 1 aggressive prexy
- 1 program committee
- 8 original planners

"MAZIE" AND HER CREW MIXING IDEAS AND ORIGINALITY

PARTY

First, add the program committee to the vice-president with an idea . . . stir well in several meetings in the parlor . . . let it stand and stir again until smooth . . . then add one gymnorium, a clear, starry night and the result will be a party that serves 500 students. It may be served successfully any season of the year.

The party served this fall was a hilarious success, due to the careful mixing of the above ingredients. You'll find the guests' enjoyment written all over their faces . . . that is, if you can see the face through the meringue.

1. Worth winning
2. Help her, Bee-ull!
3. Consequences! What a "Lick"!
4. "EVERYBODY sing!"
5. Cream puff.

Now Is the Hour

"Get you early on your way, that thou mayest go . . ."

W. Winget

The class council consisting of Al Stiefel, chaplain; Mitzi Eto, vice-president; Roger Williams, treasurer; President Mann, adviser; Paul Gray, president; Audrey Ward, secretary; and Faith Hathaway, Student Council repesentative, stop to smile as they are about to leave on the senior trip.

SENIOR CLASS

Strains of Tannhaüser — what dreams they stirred in our freshmen minds . . . a dim and distant but much anticipated future involving caps and gowns . . . a trip to the mountains . . . Junior-Senior Day with "lowly" juniors entertaining us — solemn graduation marches.

Now our dream has become a reality. We are seniors, soon to be alumni, and we leave E.N.C. with serious and purposeful minds. The dreams of being seniors have been realized; we have tasted mountain air and indulged in rigorous snow sports. All our activities have been directed toward the pinnacle: graduation and what is to follow. We go prepared to be teachers, preachers, missionaries, chemists, doctors, — Christians, to lead or to follow.

We came to E.N.C. as green as the grass on the Mansion lawn, and we go steeped in her traditions and beliefs. We have learned spiritual values; we have been strengthened by class and regular prayer meetings, stirring revivals, consecrated teachers, prayer before classes; we have learned to apply ourselves, to make right choices, we have gained lasting friendships and adopted high ideals for our lives.

Graduation means the end of many things but the beginning of a full, rich life. We have our foundation on which to build our lives and to continue the development of our character.

"—and He shall teach us of His way,
and we shall walk in His paths."

SENIOR RECITALISTS

In spring, nature's winter work ends in a grand finale of perfection. In much the same fashion this spring, the senior recitals crowned many hours of preparation for five of the students.

Two of the recitals represented the music department. Beulah Naylor very capably rendered the Italian selection, "Una Voce Poco Fa", and several numbers in German.

Eleanor Smith's organ recital made us all appreciate more truly the beauty and majesty of the organ. Her interpretation of Bach is not to be forgotten.

The remaining three recitalists were representative of the speech department. Outstanding among the readings of Audrey Ward was an excerpt from Romeo and Juliet.

The story of The Robe became more vivid and powerful as interpreted by Albert Stiefel.

As one of the more serious selections of a varied program, Marilyn Brown read The Death of the Hired Man.

The recitalists were ably assisted by other members of the two departments.

Ontario District — A Mission field right at our door, presenting unusual opportunities, in the midst of fully modern and up-to-the-minute facilities, with an aggressive Home Mission Program.

The Ontario District includes the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, and has a population of approximately 8,500,000 people, or two-thirds (2/3) of the entire population of the Dominion of Canada. It contains hundreds of prosperous towns and cities that have no Wesleyan Holiness Church.

WANTED: Qualified Christian Workers who have the preparation, consecration, devotion, and zeal of a missionary to foreign fields.

PHOTOGRAPHER...

The responsibility associated with such a title is no small task.
A College Annual without photographs would indeed be dull.

Therefore, we have tried to fulfill our photographic assignment with the careful attention necessary to assure you a pleasant and lasting memory of your days at E. N. C.

The HARVARD STUDIO

Official Photographer Since 1947

669 BOYLSTON STREET BOSTON, MASS.

ESPECIALLY for YOU...

- The making of College Annuals takes far longer than you think.
- The co-ordination of photography, art work, engraving, printing and binding was entrusted to our skilled craftsmen who have been making college annuals for nearly a quarter of a century.
- Together with the staff who have served you so well, we too share in the satisfaction of completing this book ....

Especially for YOU

115 SAGAMORE STREET
QUINCY 71, MASSACHUSETTS

In Appreciation . . .

Of our publisher, Paul K. Blanchard, who has so skillfully guided us in the technicalities of this project, manifesting his personal interest and pleasant manner throughout.

Of our photographer, "Charlie" Ianello of the Harvard Studios, who does not know how to say "No" and who loses neither his patience nor his smile nor his ability to produce the best in photography whatever the circumstances.

Of the Roberts Engraving Company with whom we have had no personal contact, but whose skillful photo-engraving has completed the "big three" in the production of our annual.

Of Bryon L. Smith and his determination to please with his aerial photography.

Of Dean Bertha Munro who so understandingly gave the editorial staff free creative rein yet guided us with her sincere and constructive criticism.

Of professor J. R. Naylor who kept the financial department on a sound operating basis.

Of all those students and professors who aided us in many ways great and small . . .

We Extend . . .

In recognition of the integral part which you have played, our sincere and heartfelt thanks.
